FEAR INVASION ATTEMPT

Germany Expecting British Offensive
Stages First Large Scale Air
Attack In Months

LONDON, April 3 (UP)—German, stung by British commando raids on the French coast and apparently fearing that a fleet was massing for a real invasion attempt, sent perhaps the biggest night bomber force of the war against the English southeast coast during the night.

Practically the whole corner of England nearest occupied France was plastered with bombs.

Casualties were heavy in at least one big southeast coast town, but it was evident that the German raiders were aiming their bombs at harbors for many of them fell into the sea and most of the others struck along the shore line.

As anti-aircraft guns thundered a barrage against the German planes and British night fighters challenged them, a British bomber force struck at the Matford Motor Works, 10 miles northeast of Paris, for the second straight night.

It was a bright moonlight night, ideal for bombing.

At least two of the German planes were believed shot down. Watchers saw one crash and another was reported down.

United Press observers who have seen every coastal raid of the war, said they believed the southeast coast had never been attacked by such a big force of night bombers. Explosions indicated that the Germans were using their biggest bombs. Damage was not proportionately heavy because of the number of bombs which dropped into the sea.

Also anti-aircraft fire was deadly and people along the coast heard the machine guns of a strong force of Royal Air Force night fighter planes which went into action promptly, racing through the thick barrage of their own guns to attack raiders which the darting coastal searchlights picked out.

It was a big raid, but it was a

Kiwanians Hear Interesting Talk

PUBLICITY MANAGER FOR NEW YORK CENTRAL IS LUNCH-EON SPEAKER

The Kiwanis club members heard an interesting talk Thursday at their luncheon by C. A. Radford, publicity manager of the New York Central railroad on the topic, "The Contribution of the railroads to the war efforts."

Mr. Radford tied into the present rail management the fact that in the last war, the government took over the roads for operation for the duration, and gave the reasons for it, while now he said there is full co-operation between the government and the roads. He said the present roads are operating trains 65 per cent faster than in the last war period, freight cars have 20 per cent more capacity and the output per train is double what it was during the first war. He said between December 7, 1941 and Christmas, the railroads moved 600,000 troops, and their full equipment without passenger train interruption.

Mr. Radford said in 1942 the roads will have an additional 150,000 freight cars; that there are now in operation, more than 450,000 miles of tracks within the United States, and that every six seconds a freight train leaves one point for a given destination in this country. He said the railroads can do their job during the present emergency and that America will win the war because of the splendid spirit of co-operation from all industry and from every source.

Dr. Richards To Make State Race

WILL SEEK RE-NOMINATION AS REPUBLICAN JOINT REP-RESENTATIVE

Dr. Renos H. Richards of Patrickburg, present State Representative from Owen and Putnam counties, has filed with the Secretary of State his declaration for re-nomination as a Republican candidate in the May primary.

Dr. Richards is a native-born citizen of Patrickburg. He is a graduate of the Spencer High School and of DePauw University. He was a public school teacher for nine years, six years of which he served as superintendent of the Spencer city schools.

In 1916 he went to the Mexican Border with his regiment as surgeon in the First Indiana National Guard organization. In 1917, Dr. Richards entered the World War I with his regiment. In 1918 he was ordered overseas to France where he served as surgeon of the 138th Machine Gun Battalion until the Armistice, November 11, 1918. After that date he served with various U. S. Base Hospitals until ordered to return to the United States in March, 1919. After a residence of three years in Greencastle, he returned to Patrickburg where he has since been actively engaged in the practice of his profession.

Before World War I, Dr. Richards served two consecutive terms as treasurer of Owen county. He was first elected to the House of Representatives in the Indiana General Assembly from Owen and Putnam counties in 1938 and was re-elected in 1940 by an increased majority.

Wavell To Join In India Parley

COMMANDER OF BRITISH IN BURMA AND INDIA WILL AID NEGOTIATIONS

NEW DELHI, April 3—(UP)—Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, commander in chief in India and Burma, was expected to join negotiations on Indian defense today in an attempt to find a basis of agreement which would induce Indian nationalist leaders to accept Britain's offer of post-war dominion status.

Well informed quarters reported Sir Stafford Cripps, British war cabinet member who submitted the offer, had been given a free hand to negotiate an agreement within the limitations of his own discretion.

Cripps tentatively arranged a meeting today between him and Wavell on one side and Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, president of the nationalist All-India congress, and Jawaharlal Nehru, powerful left wing congress leader, on the other.

It was hoped that Wavell might be able to suggest a way in which Britain could give Indians the measure of control the nationalists seek over broad aspects of defense and leave him free at the same time to direct all strategic and tactical activities.

WHAT, NO BICYCLE? THEN

IT'S A CASE OF JUST WALK

Unless those who have been trying to get a bicycle, got it by midnight last night, it will be just a plain case of walk hereafter, because the WPB froze all bicycle sales last midnight and unless one has that important bicycle this morning, he can't go out and buy one now. It's too late. But so far walking isn't too crowded so everyone will still have a chance to get to work by that method.

Test Run Made To Powder Plant

O. W. HOLLOWELL TO START
BUS LINE ON MONDAY MORNING

O. W. Hollowell, who starts his "War Bus" to the defense powder plant near Dana Monday morning, made a test run to the plant Thursday afternoon to test the time schedule he had worked out and the new 30 passenger bus he used with a few guests, made the trip in about five to seven minutes less time than he had planned, his running time being one and one half hours for the 40 mile trip.

A visit to the outskirts of the big defense plant now as compared to six weeks ago, shows the vast amount of work that has been accomplished in that time and farther west from the front door of the big works, hardly anyone knows what has been accomplished, because only the workmen are permitted in that section.

At the present two or three thousand men are employed and employment offices and administration offices have been erected and are filled with employees, and almost daily additional men are being put to work. Within the next few months, it is expected additional buildings will go up and probably by fall, the plant will be in full production.

What has been accomplished has been done on fields that a few weeks ago were devoted to agriculture or to woods and now roads lead to all sections of the place and workmen drive over the many hundreds of acres. Farmers who lived in their homes on the tract, have all been moved out and the entire place has been turned over to the DuPont Co., for the construction of the plant. One of the interesting things is the fact that a guard is stationed about every one hundred yards and they supervise everyone quite closely, thus guaranteeing the safety of the work being done and the men doing the work.

Mr. Hollowell's bus line will carry Putnam county workmen from Cloverdale to the plant, he having been granted a bus permit by the Indiana Public Service Commission for the operation of the two buses daily.

24,000 MORE GERMANS
IN BATTLES

FIGHTING IS INCREASING

Russian Communiques Say Battles
Are Mounting in Ferocity All
Along The Front

LONDON, April 3.—(UP)—Russian communiques reported today the killing of at least 24,248 more Germans, and indicated that battles were mounting in ferocity as the enemy threw additional men, tanks and planes into counter-attacks.

A special communique late last night said 12,000 Germans were killed on the Leningrad front from March 20 to March 31, and 10,000 were killed on the Kalinin front, northwest of Moscow, from March 21 to April 1.

The regular communique last midnight, covering more recent operations, asserted a rifle unit on the central front had dislodged the Germans from a community and killed 100 of them.

On the Kalinin front, Soviet forces repulsed a tank and infantry attack and killed 650 Germans. Guerrillas operating behind the Germans in the Orel district killed 169 and took 64 prisoners. Raiding deep behind the German lines in the south, Russian units killed 300 Germans and blew up six pill boxes in one foray and annihilated 29 in a second.

The Germans tried to attack on a sector of the Leningrad front. The communique said 18 of their tanks were smashed and 1,000 of them killed.

Both communiques reported wholesale destruction of German supplies and the capture of considerable material, which the Russians now will turn against the Germans.

Booty, the special communique said, included 85 guns, 10 tanks, six armored cars and 55 trench mortars and anti-tank guns. Twenty-three German planes, 25 guns, 83 trench mortars and 45 truckloads of supplies were destroyed.

The increasing use of planes by the Germans was indicated by the regular communique, which said 57 were shot down on Wednesday. The Russians lost 11. Soviet naval forces sank a German submarine in the Barents sea, where the axis has been trying to break the American-British supply line to Russia's arctic ports.

Describing raids far behind the German lines, the communique said, in one instance, that a unit penetrated to a village where the Germans had concentrated powerful reserves and built up munitions depots. The raiders caught the Germans completely off guard. They ran panic-stricken through the streets, half-dressed, while the Russians blew up their ammunition dumps.

WAINWRIGHT'S MEN 'MOP UP' JAP SPEARHEAD

BATAAN DEFENDERS CATCH JAPANESE INVADERS IN AMBUSH

READY FOR ANYTHING

Heroic U. S.-Filipino Force In Philippines Expects Another Heavy
Jap Thrust

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(UP)—Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's men today are "mopping up" a Japanese spearhead that was trapped after it opened a nearly disastrous hole in the American-Filipino main line on Bataan peninsula.

Latest reports received by the War Department from Wainwright said the hole had been closed and indicated that the defenders were ready for another heavy enemy assault which may have come last night.

The report of the spearhead attack revealed that Wainwright's skillful generalship combined with heroic fighting by his greatly outnumbered men turned what could have been a successful "break-through" by the Japanese into a smashing defeat for the enemy forces.

General fighting was still going on last night near the left center of Wainwright's line, but the enemy advance has been halted and the break in the main line restored by a "fierce counter-attack."

"Japanese losses are believed to have been heavy, while our own casualties were surprisingly small," the War Department's communique said. The spearhead attack was the second made by the Japanese during Wednesday night and yesterday morning, and was the heaviest of any reported in more than five days of almost continuous fighting.

The increasing intensity of the Japanese attacks, and the continued use of aircraft to bomb the front and rear American-Filipino lines as well as Corregidor fortress indicated that the crucial phase of the battle of Bataan may be at hand.

Communiques give little in the way of details to reveal the strategy of a commander. Thus it is not possible to tell whether the latest enemy attack which succeeded in penetrating the American lines was the result of a thrust so heavy the defenders could not repel it frontally, or whether Wainwright played the game that way. There were hints that the man who succeeded Gen. Douglas MacArthur pulled back his patrols and other front line troops when the Japanese infantry attacked, and when the right moment arrived delivered a murderous pincer movement at the base of the Japanese spearhead, cutting it off.

Before that action the weary de-

GUARD ENDS IN DEATH

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., April 3 (UP)—Maj. Buell Hammett of the California home guard accepted the challenge of Maj. William H. Westrom, retired army officer "to come over to my house and tell me that to my face."

Their ensuing argument last night over administration of Home Guard affairs developed into a gun fight. Westrom, 43, was killed. Hammett was wounded and Westrom's wife was injured critically by a stray bullet.

Hammett, a prominent figure in Southern California Society, had objected to a letter written by Westrom and published by the Santa Barbara News-Press. The letter criticized Hammett's administration of the Santa Barbara Home Guard unit from which Westrom had resigned. "I told him to come over to my house and tell me that to my face and I'd punch him in the nose," Westrom was quoted as telling the newspaper.

Police said Hammett accepted the challenge, armed with two .45 caliber automatic pistols.

FARM LABOR OUTLOOK

LAFAYETTE, April 3—(UP)—Anticipated shortages of farm labor, resulting from enlistments in the armed forces and attractive industrial wages, have not yet developed although Hoosier farmers have boosted land under cultivation by 10 per cent. Purdue University reports showed today.

Acreage increases over 1941, indicated by the University department of agricultural statistics and the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics were: soybeans, 542,000; oats, 27,000; barley, 40,000; tame hay, 5,000; corn, 197,000.

At the same time, Farm Security officials announced that 905 FSA assisted farmers have pledged an increase of 95,530 dozen eggs over last year's output, with 7,970 producers still to be heard from.

Increased spring planting resulted from reduced winter wheat acreage and from grassland used for pasture or soil improvement in recent years, reports showed.

"However, since grazing animals have increased in numbers in recent years, there will be need for good care of pastures and plans to lighten the grazing load or permanent grass lands," officials warned, pointing to the need for more grain to finish hogs and to maintain milk production.

Mrs. John Boyd of Greencastle is the state program chairman for the convention. Mrs. Fred Ritchie is the local president.

Miss Mann has had unusual opportunities to study world conditions. Before the war she studied for the stage under Max Reinhardt, but when Hitler came into power the Manns—then vacationing in Switzerland—resolved never to go back to Germany. At considerable risk, Erika dressed in peasant costume and made her way across the border long enough to bring out of Germany the manuscript of her father's book, Joseph and His Brethren. Miss Mann was in Czechoslovakia during the Munich crisis, visited in Spain during the revolution and lived in France and other nations preceding the war.

Military Probe
Of Fatal ScrapTHREE SOLDIERS KILLED IN FIGHT AT FORT DIX,
NEW JERSEY

FORT DIX, N. J., April 3.—(UP)—Military authorities invoked a board of inquiry today to investigate a battle between Negro soldiers and white military policemen last night in which three soldiers were killed and five were wounded.

The battle occurred across the narrow street which divides the Fort Dix military reservation from the adjoining town of Pointville. The Negro soldiers were firing from their barracks on one side of the street; the white military policemen from business houses and the sidewalk on the Pointville side.

The dead were Private Manie W. Strouth, Honey Camp, a military policeman, Private Isaac W. Brown, Henderson, Tenn., Negro, and Corporal W. E. Hall, Negro.

The wounded were all Negroes. The fighting lasted for 15 minutes, starting at 9 a. m. and was sporadic. Little indiscipline was involved. Col. Herbert D. Forrest, executive officer of the post, and several officers, drove up in staff cars and ended it with no difficulty. Stopping in the middle of the street, they ordered the white military policemen to cease firing and commanded the Negro soldiers to come out of their barracks. The orders were obeyed instantly.

No arrests were made. That will come, if justified, after the official inquiry to determine which soldier or soldiers were responsible. Trial by court martial will follow.

after studying the pattern of the raid, that the Germans intended to strike at one fleet of invasion ships which Britain might be passing along the coast for an attack on the occupied coast.

Raid watchers emphasized repeatedly during the attack that many bombs were falling just off shore and it seemed certain that harbors not towns themselves, were the targets.

That the bombing was not indiscriminate was made plain by watchers' reports that the German planes came in at low levels.

It was the second big low level night attack of the southeast coast within two weeks, after months of inactivity.

by Joe Marsh

BEST storekeeper I ever knew was a fellow named Sam Abernethy. Sam's specialty was to take over some run-down store that somebody else had given up as a failure. Then Sam would turn it into a gold mine.

"But the most important thing of all," he used to say, "is to remember who's Boss!"

"You may think you are Boss of your business . . . but you're not. The public, your customers, are the real bosses . . . and you've got to run your business the way they want it."

That little statement of Sam's made a big impression on me . . . particularly since it certainly seemed to work so well in Sam's case.

And Sam isn't the only one. I see the beer industry feels the same way . . . certainly, the brewers believe in running their business the way you and I would like to see it run.

Folks like us like to see beer sold in clean, quiet, decent places.

Well . . . the brewers feel the same way about it. They don't want their beer sold in wrong surroundings. They know it doesn't pay. And they know it hurts the good name of beer.

I was reading the other day how the brewers and the beer distributors work together and cooperate with law enforcement authorities. The idea is to make careless beer retailers clean up their places and practices . . . or close up.

It's a good plan . . . and it seems to me it ought to work. I understand it is already in operation in a number of states and is being extended.

It's a mighty fine thing when a great industry has the gumption to do a job like that on its own initiative. And if Sam Abernethy was right, the brewers should be mighty successful . . . because they're running their business the way the public wants to see it run.

GROSS TAX AT PEAK

INDIANAPOLIS, April 3—(UP)—Indiana's gross income tax has leaped ahead of the state gasoline tax as the largest source of state revenue with a record collection of $34,043,863.20 from Hoosier workers in the past year.

The figure represented an increase of $8,744,761.75 or almost a 25 per cent hike over the 1940 collection, due in part to 228,861 more persons paying the tax than in the previous year.

However, Gilbert K. Hewitt, director of the Gross Income Tax Division, warned that the tax collection boom was over, chiefly because of rationing and priority programs.

"We can expect drastic reductions in state revenue as a result of lowering gross income tax rates for retailers, laundries and dry cleaners, and from the stoppage or reduction in sales of automobiles and tires and household appliances and equipment," he stated.

"And if Congress passes legislation now being considered which forbids a state levying taxes on war contracts, a total reduction of $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 in gross income tax revenue is anticipated in 1942."

In immediate returns for the period from Jan. 1 to March 31, Hewitt expected a drop of between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000 in returns.

Voncastile

Look out, folks! Here comes Henry Aldrich again. This time with a jalopy, an airplane and a brass band. He's in "Henry Aldrich for President," opening tonight and Saturday at the Voncastile Theatre.

This third film in Paramount popular Aldrich Family series introduces a brand new Henry, freckle Jimmy Lydon, who makes as harum-scarum an American boy as did Jackie Cooper who had the top roll in the first two Aldrich pictures, "What a Life" and "Life With Henry."

Granada

"Crash" Corrigan, who with "Dusty" King and "Alibi" Terhune is starring in "Underground Rustlers," playing at the Granada Theatre Saturday only, is quite a stud! of goldrush lore and his library at home is crammed with books and papers recounting not only the tales of Colorado, but of the Yokon, Mexico and Africa as well. "Crash" was particularly pleased when producer George W. Weeks selected "Underground Rustlers" for the trio's eleventh vehicle in their current Ranger-buster series, for this story is laid in the historic ghost-town of Gold Butte, not too far distant from Leadville where Little Johnny Brown and his wife were the principal players in one of the strangest dramas of the goldfields.
